Um pouco de leis....

- SOPA / PIPA / CISPA
  - Stop Online Privacy Act
  - Protect Intellectual Property Act

Ten years ago, a diverse coalition of internet users, non-profit groups, and internet companies defeated the Stop Online Piracy Act (SOPA) and the PROTECT IP Act (PIPA), bills that would have forced internet companies to blacklist and block websites accused of hosting copyright-infringing content. These were bills that would have made censorship very easy, all in the name of copyright enforcement. This collective action showed the world that the word of the few major companies who control film, music, and television can't control internet policy for their own good.

- ENCRYPT ACT OF 2016
- ENCRYPT ACT OF 2019

A State or political subdivision of a State may not order or request that a manufacturer, seller, developer, or provider of covered products or services:

1. Design, alter or modify the security features in its product or service in an effort to allow the surveillance of its users, or to allow the physical search of such product or service by any federal agency or instrumentality of a State, a political subdivision of a State, or, of course, the United States.
2. Have the ability to decrypt or otherwise provide intelligible information that is encrypted or otherwise rendered unintelligible using its product or service.

- AdobeFlash

A empresa de vigilância digital Hacking Team descobriu esta semana vulnerabilidades no sistema de segurança do Adobe Flash, um software norte-americano que facilita a reprodução de vídeos na Internet. A Google, Apple, Facebook e Mozilla, entre outras gigantes tecnológicas, pedem o fim do programa que, garantem, não é seguro para os utilizadores.
